THE ULTIMATE CHILLI CON CARNE

SERVES 8 PREP 25 mins
COOK 3 hrs MORE EFFORT

photographs PETER CASSIDY

What: Mexican by name but Texan in origin, chili con carne translates as chillies with meat. In the UK, we've gone from a Bolognaise-style in the 80s to Tex-Mex in the 90s to the authentic beef moles and carne guisadas of today.

How: Our recipe has quite a few ingredients, but you can tweak it to fit your tastes. Beans are optional - you wouldn't find them in true chilis, but they add texture. Whole, dried Mexican chillies can be bought in supermarkets. Using chunks of meat instead of mince is a game changer, as are the hints of chocolate and coffee in this recipe.

- You will need
- 2 dried ancho chillies
 - 2tsp black peppercorns
 - 2tsp each cumin seeds and coriander seeds
 - 2tsp smoked paprika
 - 1tbsp dried oregano
 - 3tbsp vegetable oil
 - 1.5kg braising steak, cut into 4cm cubes - meat from the brisket, short rib, blade or chuck steak are all good
 - 2 onions, finely chopped
 - 6 garlic cloves, minced
 - 2tbsp tomato purée
 - 1tsp smooth peanut butter
 - ½ tsp instant espresso powder
 - 2tbsp apple cider vinegar
 - 1 litre beef or chicken stock
 - 2 bay leaves
 - small piece of cinnamon stick
 - 2tbsp semolina polenta or Mexican masa flour
 - 25g dark chocolate (70-80% cocoa solids)
 - 400g can kidney beans, drained but not rinsed (optional)

THICKENING
The Mexican method of thickening involves whisking masa harina - a finely milled cornmeal - into the dish and simmering for a few minutes. If you can't find it, use semolina flour or polenta flour instead.

FRESH SPICES
Buying fresh, whole spices and toasting and grinding them yourself cranks up the flavour and fragrance.

MEAT
Mince might be what you grew up eating, but large chunks of beef make for a better braise and elevate the chili from a weeknight student supper. Buy the best quality you can afford. Try a nicely marbled cut like brisket or the meat from the short rib - the fat that renders off as it braises adds to the richness of the finished sauce.

CHOCOLATE
Dark chocolate adds a touch of bitterness and a depth of flavour to the sauce.

COFFEE
Good-quality coffee adds a big roasted flavour, and is often used in Texan chillies.

TIP
When you remove the chilies before serving, toss them into a mini-chopper with a splash more oil and salt to make a chili oil paste. Serve on the side of your chili con carne.

BEANS
Life's too short to cook beans from scratch, so opt for canned instead. We've used kidney beans, but not too many of them. You can add more or use black beans if you prefer or leave out the beans entirely - whatever you like.

COOKING TIPS
If you want tender meat, the cooking time can't be rushed and will depend on the cut of beef. The timings in this recipe will give you meat that holds its shape. For beef to shred for a taco or burrito, add 30 mins more. A pressure cooker can cut down cooking times - follow the same recipe, but cook under pressure for just 40-50 mins.

How to make it

- Heat oven to 140C/120C fan/gas 1, cover a high heat. Toast the whole chillies on all sides until you can smell them cooking, then remove and set aside. Keep the pan on the heat and toast the peppercorns, cumin seeds and coriander seeds until they just start to change colour; then grind to a powder using a pestle and mortar or spice grinder. Mix with the smoked paprika and onion. (This is a standard tex-mex seasoning), then set aside.
- Return the casserole to the heat, add half the oil and heat until shimmering. Fry the beef in batches, adding more oil if you need to, until it's browned on all sides, then set aside. Fry the onions in the pan over a low heat for about 8 mins until soft and golden, then add the garlic and cook for 1 min more. Working fast, add the meat and juices, the spice mix, tomato paste, peanut butter and coffee to the pan and cook for 2-3 mins, stirring to coat the meat until everything is thick and gooey. Then pour in the vinegar and stock.
- Add the toasted chillies back into the casserole, along with the bay leaves, cinnamon and some salt. Bring to a simmer and stir well, then cover with the lid and cook in the oven for 3hrs, stirring occasionally until the meat is very tender but not falling apart. Take the casserole out of the oven, put back on the stove and remove the lid. Simmer the sauce for 4 mins, then stir in the semolina flour and simmer for 2-3 mins more. Finally stir over the chocolate, stir through with the beans and simmer for a minute more to heat through. Fish out the chilies, then leave everything to rest for at least 15 mins.
- Bring the pan to the table. Serve with bowls of accompaniments (see serving suggestions) and the chili and chilies. Then leave everything to rest for at least 15 mins.

SERVES 4 as a main, 6 as a side
PREP 10 mins plus soaking COOK 2 hrs

WHAT
Also call black dhal this buttery lentil dish is the most comforting dal there is. There are many opinions on how its cooked so we've combined the best of all of them.

HOW
With lots of advice from the Punjabi food writer, Romy Gill, plus our expertise in cooking dried pulses we've come up with this recipe. We've gone with Punjabi version that doesn't use onion and made no excuses to just how rich it is as it's meant to be eaten as a celebration dish.

- WHAT TO BUY
- 200g whole urad dhal, also known as urad beans or black lentils
 - 1 tsp baking powder
 - large piece ginger, a third finely sliced, a third grated to a paste, a third cut into fine matchsticks
 - 2 green chillies, 1 whole, 1 chopped
 - ½ tsp turmeric
 - 100g butter
 - 1 tsp cumin seeds
 - 5 garlic cloves, minced
 - 100g tomato puree
 - 1tbsp coriander powder
 - 2tbsp dried fenugreek leaves
 - 400g tin kidney beans
 - ½ tsp garam masala
 - 50ml double cream

RINSING & SOAKING
Don't skip on the rinsing and soaking of the dal. The process might seem longwinded but it doesn't take long and makes the dal more digestible and means they cook in the amount of liquid for the time we stated.

FENUGREEK
Dried fenugreek has a different flavour to the seeds. It tastes mildly of celery but also enhances the other flavours and gives the finished dish lots of body.

Nine men in Asians sex gang facing jail

By LAUREN VEEVERS
 NINE members of an Asian gang were yesterday convicted of punting around girls as young as 13 for sex — after plying them with booze.
 The white victims were given gin and tonics, kebabs, and cash for sleeping with the men, mostly from Rochdale, Greater Manchester.
 One girl, aged 13 at the time, told Liverpool Crown Court she slept with up to 20 a week.
 The gang, including Abdul Qayyum, all face jail at sentencing today.

Gang who forced girls into sex found guilty

Helen Carter

Nine men were found guilty yesterday of being part of a child sexual exploitation ring that targeted vulnerable girls, plied them with fast food, alcohol, drugs and gifts so that they could pass them around to a group of men for sex.
 During the course of the complex inquiry into the "grooming" case police identified and interviewed 47 young girls who were potential victims of the gang, which was active in the Heywood area of Rochdale, Greater Manchester, in 2008 and 2009.
 A 15-year-old girl complained to police that she was being abused four years ago but police initially failed to pursue her case because the Child Protection Service advised them she was not a "credible" enough witness. The Independent Police Complaints Commission is supervising an inquiry into the investigation.
 Initially no charges were brought against the teenager's attackers — a 39-year-old man who cannot be named for legal reasons and Kabir Hassan, 34, but both were convicted yesterday following a two-month trial in Liverpool.
 The victims were targeted by Abdul Aziz, 41, Abdul Rauf, 43, Mohammed Saif, 35, Adil Khan, 42, Abdul Qayyum, 44, Mohammed Aziz, 43, Haroon Iqbal, 23, Hassan, 25, and the 30-year-old, 19-year-old still searching for another man, Mohammed Shazad, 24, who also ended his own bid following his first arrest.
 One 13-year-old victim became pregnant and had the child aborted. Another gave evidence of being raped by two men while she was "so drunk she was vomiting over the side of the bed" and later cried herself to sleep. The victims, who were said to be from diverse backgrounds, were raped and physically assaulted and forced to have sex with several men in a day, several times a week.
 The men — who are all of British Pakistani heritage, apart from Saif who is from Afghanistan — groomed the teenage girls who would often be found hanging round kash shops late at night, befriending the staff. The court heard that they acted together to sexually exploit the girls.
 Bernard's chief executive, Ann Marie Curtis, said (8-9)

Die ÖVP lehnt eine Entlastung der Arbeitnehmer derzeit ab...

Bundeskanzler Werner Faymann

Die einzige Möglichkeit, Schwarz-Bitar zu verhindern, besteht darin, den Wählern zu zeigen, dass die ÖVP die Absicht hat, die Sozialversicherungsbeiträge zu senken.

Foto: SPÖ/Zinner

Werner Faymann: Wer damit zufrieden ist, dass die ArbeitnehmerInnen die höchsten Steuern zahlen, will daran nichts ändern. Es war auch in dieser Legislaturperiode so, dass die Initiative für eine Steuerreform von mir gekommen ist. Und es war auch das letzte Mal vor der Wahl so, dass die ÖVP gesagt hat, dass es keine finanziellen Spielräume für eine Steuerreform gibt. Nach der Wahl haben wir sie dann 2009 gemeinsam umgesetzt. Wenn jemand wie ich den ArbeitnehmerInnen verbunden ist, dann hat er deutlich zu sagen, was er für sie erreichen möchte - vor der Wahl und nach der Wahl.

Der Zwölf-Stunden-Arbeitstag und die Anhebung des Frauen-Pensionsalters wurden im laufenden Wahlkampf heftig diskutiert. Wie begegnet die SPÖ diesen Forderungen?

Werner Faymann: Es gibt durchaus gegenstimmige Maßnahmen, die, wenn sie von Sozialpolitikern, die Kosten und Flexibilisierung von Senkung der Lohnstückkosten, ein Zurückdrängen oder eine Abschaffung von Schutzbestimmungen für Arbeit-

Werner Faymann: Hart erkämpfte Rechte für die ArbeitnehmerInnen abzubauen, Pensionen zu kürzen, und über 300.000 Frauen, und dem Land zu verunsichern - das wird die Sozialdemokratie nicht zulassen. Ich bin davon überzeugt und stehe auch dazu: Ich bin gegen eine vorzeitige Erhöhung des Frauenstärker die SPÖ bei dieser Wahl eintrittsalters. Je stärker die SPÖ bei dieser Wahl wird, desto weniger Spielraum bleibt für die anderen, solche Forderungen in Koalitionsexperimenten durchzusetzen.

Es gibt aber auch Parteien, die einen anderen Kurs einschlagen wollen...

Werner Faymann: Es gibt durchaus gegenstimmige Maßnahmen, die, wenn sie von Sozialpolitikern, die Kosten und Flexibilisierung von Senkung der Lohnstückkosten, ein Zurückdrängen oder eine Abschaffung von Schutzbestimmungen für Arbeit-

„Es braucht einen Paukenschlag in der Bildungspolitik.“

Bundeskanzler Werner Faymann

Werner Faymann: Im Bildungsbereich haben wir noch Nachholbedarf. Und auch hier geht es um Gerechtigkeit. Das beginnt bei der Kinderbetreuung, wo es noch immer weiße Flecken in Österreich gibt, und setzt sich an den Unis fort. Dass immer noch weniger Kinder von Arbeitern als von Akademikern studieren, zeigt, dass mehr getan werden muss. Je mehr Familien nicht auf teure Nachhilfe angewiesen sind und je mehr Ganztags-schulen es gibt, desto besser kann man Unterschiede im Paukenschlag. Es braucht eine Politik...

Worin bestehen die Herausforderungen der nächsten Jahre?

Werner Faymann: An erster Stelle stehen Maßnahmen für Beschäftigung und Wachstum. Die Menschen brauchen eine Arbeit, von der sie leben können. Dafür müssen wir auch weiterhin die richtigen Rahmenbedingungen schaffen. Aber auch Bildung, Gesundheit und leistbares Wohnen sind Bereiche, denen wir besonders in wirtschaftlich schwierigen Zeiten einen hohen Stellenwert einräumen müssen.

ABRÜSTUNG JETZT!

Ebenso zugenommen hat die Aufrüstung. Während die Sozialbudgets europaweit heruntergestrichen werden, werden die Forderungen nach einer hochgerüsteten gemeinsamen EU-Armee immer lauter. Auch die weltweiten Rüstungsausgaben werden 2014 das erste Mal seit Jahren wieder steigen – während Hunger und Armut auf der Welt immer noch enorm sind und durch die Krise weiter zugenommen haben. Es läuft einiges schief, wenn Geld in die Rüstungsindustrie gepumpt wird, während Menschen immer noch Hunger leiden oder kein Dach über den Kopf haben.

GEGEN AUFRÜSTUNG UND KRIEG!

Kriegerische Auseinandersetzungen prägen aktuell das weltpolitische Geschehen. Genau 100 Jahre nach dem Ersten Weltkrieg wird wieder oftmals auf Eskalation und Waffengewalt gesetzt, statt auf friedliche Verhandlungen und Dialog. Anstatt augenscheinliche ökonomische und soziale Probleme lösen zu wollen, werden wieder viele Staaten und deren Zivilbevölkerungen zum Spielball wirtschaftlicher und politischer Interessen.
